

INVITATION TO THE SEMINAR OF MAY 3, 2018

Dear Brothers and Sisters

Immigration is a great social phenomenon that is happening in our countries and leads to problems of violence, exploitation, and illegality. They must be tackled with the assertion of lawfulness, a prerequisite for a rule of law, but without forgetting the pillars on which our society is based, such as the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the Constitution.

However, immigration is also a great opportunity to meet people and cultures and to a human and social growth. Sharing among all the people the principles of justice, peace and human rights is indispensable in a world that is becoming increasingly global.

We feel more and more questioned by art. 4 of the scout law that says: "The Guide and the Scout are friends to all and brothers and sisters to every other Guide and Scout." These simple words are today a challenge for us, given the tensions, debates, feelings of intolerance and xenophobia spread throughout the world. Actually, this social phenomenon affects the whole Italian and European society and is actually transforming the societies.

The national and international rules that govern immigration are often scarcely farsighted or ineffective. It is more than ever urgent to activate effective and specific protection for age groups, with the identification of competent professional peoples and able to ensure respect for the rights and listening to the younger subjects for the purpose of their adherence and positioning.

However, there is a need for synergy of all the countries of the European Union, not only with regard to the shares of the welcomed, but also with regard to homogenous rules and instruments suitable for the recognition of status of refugee, humanitarian protection and international and the organization of migratory flows.

Dialogue and confrontation with what is different from us becomes a promoter of "UNIVERSAL FRATERNITY". Only in this way we can look at the face of our neighbor, respecting his social, cultural and religious differences, the face of his brother and learn to recognize that humanity that joints us, made of dreams, joys, sorrows, struggles and hopes for a BEST WORLD.

Of this and much more about this phenomenon we can talk about it in Rome on May 3, 2018, in an institutional venue with speakers who will help us to reflect on the issue.

We would be happy to have you as guests from 2 May afternoon to May 4, 2018.

Waiting for confirmation, Yours in the Fellowship.
