- A. considers the recognition of the dignity of all members of the human family and of their equal and inalienable rights as the foundation of freedom, justice and peace in the world;

Convinced also that it is urgent to take action to put an end to the now daily massacre of women, men, and children in desperate search of peace and dignity, turns to the Italian Parliament and Government and the European Parliament so that, each according to its own competence, may take a commitment

- to identify safe humanitarian corridors to allow the transit of migrants, victims of wars, persecutions, disasters, and dictatorships;
- to ensure a welcome worthy and respectful of human rights;
- to accelerate the procedures for identification and definition of requests for asylum, in order to minimize the permanence in migrants concentration centers;
- to overcome the constraints of the Dublin Regulation at European level;
- to plan and build real integration paths;
- to implement political and economic interventions in the counties of departure of migrants.
